Supplementary Multimedia Data in your Article!

Did you know that Elsevier journals accept electronic supplementary material to support and enhance your research?

Supplementary files offer authors additional possibilities to publish supporting applications, movies, animation sequences, high-resolution images, background datasets, sound clips and more. Supplementary files supplied will be published online alongside the electronic version of your article in Elsevier Web products, including ScienceDirect: http://www.sciencedirect.com.

How to submit

In order to ensure that your submitted material is directly usable, please ensure that data are provided in one of our recommended file formats. Authors should submit the material in electronic format together with the article and supply a concise and descriptive caption for each file. For video files: please supply 'stills' with your files: you can choose any frame from the video or make a separate image. These will be used instead of the standard icons and will personalize the link to your supplementary information. For more detailed instructions please visit our artwork instruction pages at http://www.elsevier.com/artworkinstructions.

Make your article stand out

Please see below for an example of an article with supplementary video content. Why not submit an article today and upload additional content of your own!
